Gina started her real estate career in 1991 as a sophomore at Manhattanville College during one of the worst markets in history. A gift from her Builder/Realtor parents on her 18th birthday, this license allowed her to put herself through college and eventually graduate with a dual bachelor's degree in Political Science and Philosophy in 1993. Not sure real estate was the track she wanted to pursue, Gina took a few detours in the legal profession, and in 2001 after the birth of her second son, landed full time in her family owned real estate office, where she worked from the ground up. Since 2001 Gina has earned her Broker License, and Certified International Property Specialist

(CIPS), Council of Real Estate Brokerage Managers (CRB), Council of Residential Specialist (CRS), Graduate Realtor Institute (GRI), Instructor Training Institute (ITI) and she is also a member of Women's Council of Realtors, Long Island Network having received her Performance Management Network (PMN) designation. This is just a few accolades. Gina has been a Director for the Long Island Board of Realtors, as well as its 2020 Treasurer and 2021 Suffolk County Vice President. She has served at various levels of leadership in her association as well as on committees including By-Laws and its task force, RPAC and Legislative committees.
