Romantic Skier's Paradise

Sonja has been coming to Sun Valley since she was 3. A Lake Tahoe native, she had her first ski lesson on Dollar Mountain! Ski racing, mountain biking and family vacations kept her coming back to Sun Valley every year throughout high school. Right after graduating from college, she made one last trip out. As she was watching the famous Sun Valley Ice Show with the sun just setting over Bald Mountain, she thought, "It's been a long time since I have skied here." The next day, she and her mom began looking for a condo to buy. Sonja moved to Sun Valley in October, 1994, and she is still there. "The magic lives on ..." "I can't think of a better life... Living, working and recreating in Sun Valley, Idaho. With my family and friends, I run, bike, ski, hike and always enjoy the wonderful recreational and cultural opportunities in the area." She has lived and breathed real estate since 1995 and loves the business of helping people realize their real estate goals. She is an accomplished skier in the first degree and one day hopes to ski down Alaska's Mount Whitney. Go get 'em girl!
